SUMMER 2024

It's Time To Celebrate!

Frogbridge Fun Facts

JR's Birthday Bash is a celebration for all of our campers, whether they have a birthday during the school year or during the summer, but it's actually NOT JR's actual birthday! When he never was able to celebrate his birthday during the school year, he always celebrated his birthday during camp time. But he wanted everyone to be able to celebrate their birthday at their favorite place. 25 years ago he came up with the idea of JR's Birthday Bash, so all campers can have cake and get a "Hoppy Birthday" shoutout during afternoon assembly!

- What's Gonna Hoppen Week 6:
- * Monday—Time Capsule Day!
 - * Tuesday—Petting Zoo!
 - * Wednesday—Favorite Team Day!
 - * Thursday—Digital Media Scavenger Hunt!
 - * Friday—Sung Beats!

We are finding it hard to believe that week 5 started and ended so quickly. The weeks are flying and the days are going even faster. We had a few new friends join us on Monday for our second half of the summer, and they joined right in on the fun. Campers are learning how to hit a bullseye in archery, they are getting more confident in zipping across the lake, and they are making so many crafts on main street. They are trying to decide if Ribbits or Frogaritas is their favorite, and are working hard at securing a spot in The Octagon Semi-finals. We hear them laughing with their friends, and know they are created memories they will never forget. The fun just doesn't stop! (although we need it to slow down just a little!)

The Olympics came a few days early to Frogbridge, as we kicked off opening ceremonies at assembly on Tuesday. Our first events were for our Team Members, with a couple of games among our divisions, lifeguards and instructors, including a leapfrog relay and a little thing we like to call dizzy bat! The lifeguards seem to be undefeatable this summer, as they were the first ones to complete the race. Next up, was an oreo face race where each team member had to wiggle an oreo from their forehead right into their mouth without it touching the floor or using their hands. Looking quite funny, in the end IG2's lifeguard, Meghan was the champion! During swim time, our Junior, Middle and Senior campers had water relays in the pool, and then during their special event periods they had a track and field event where they had to race to the finish line showing off their jumping jacks, and coordination with a spoon and ping pong ball. You are all now ready for the Olympics in just a few more years!

Our first ever Willy Wonka Day was such a hit, we might have to add it to the calendar each year. We had Oompa Loompas dancing around at assembly to their theme song, golden tickets galore, and apparently many of our campers are in their "Wonka Era". To add to the excitement, JR had a little surprise for everyone. Hidden in the icecream boxes that are handed out each day was two "FROGBRIDGE SILVER TICKETS", that campers could find to win a special treat for their group. The lucky groups were given their choice of an extra trip to Ribbits or Frogaritas! What a fun way to celebrate our Silver Summer Celebration. We can't forget to give a shout-out to Melissa from Hippity Hops Chocolate Shoppe, who had campers and Team Members making Wonka Bars all week. Choosing their favorite flavors of chocolate and then adding their favorite toppings like oreos and sprinkles, we know everyone loved their sweet treats.

JR's birthday Bash on Thursday was a great way to celebrate everyone's birthday at camp, including those with summer birthdays AND those with school year birthdays too! (Make sure you checkout our Frogbridge Fun fact) With balloons all over camp and birthday cake served for everyone at lunch, it was the Hoppiest Birthday we have all ever had. We couldn't think of a better place to celebrate our birthdays!

Our 25th anniversary dance party on Friday, was the perfect way to celebrate Frogbridge. Harrison Square Garden was transformed into the dance party of the year. The music was pumping, the motivators had us all showing off our favorite dance moves, and the Co2 cannons filled the air. The best part was that every camper was given a special limited edition Silver Celebration Glowstick to wave in the air! We hope you had as much fun partying with us and we had putting this together!

When Friday arrived and their was still no Color War clues in site, we know the campers are starting to wonder if the Battle of The Bridge is going to break this year! And wouldn't you know it, JR fooled us with a little fake break at assembly before going home for the weekend. Not yet guys! We promise you that it is coming, but you will just have to wait a little longer! We have so much more in store for week 6, so rest up this weekend! Monday will be here before we know it and we can't wait!

SUMMER 24 SHOUTOUTS

Tadpoles campers had a blast at the anniversary celebration! Way to go dancers!

Intermediate campers celebrated Willy Wonka Day, danced the day away at the Dance party and loved watching their campers participate in the Olympic games!

Junior Camp did an awesome job participating in this weeks wear it! Campers also enjoyed the extra cake at JR's birthday bash and had so much fun at the dance party on Friday!

MG 3 raised the flag on Tuesday and MG4 won the Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory wear it! Great job!

SG4 raised the flag for our Willy Wonka morning, and Senior Camp danced the day away at the 25th celebration dance party! We all got excited for the color War fake out!
